

Medical Ophthalmics Inc. Changes Name to MedOp Inc.

Oldsmar, Florida (October 27, 2005) – Medical Ophthalmics Inc., a dietary supplement manufacturer, medical supply distributor and pharmaceutical supplier, is pleased to announce the company's name change to MedOp Inc. In August 2005, the company shortened its name Medical Ophthalmics Inc. to MedOp Inc. The new name is easier to remember and pronounce.

Founded in 1985 as Medical Ophthalmics Inc. by Rodney O. Horton, O.D. and James P. Gills M.D., the company originally marketed its own line of ophthalmic, generic pharmaceuticals to eye doctors. As the company grew, product lines were added to include name brand pharmaceuticals from all of the major manufacturers as well as miscellaneous ophthalmic suppliers.

In 1994 Dr. Horton became the company's sole owner and in early 1997 started developing the MaxiVision® and MaxiFlex® product lines. The MaxiVision and MaxiFlex products are based on national medical studies and were designed to help patients with sight-threatening eye diseases, joint conditions and to help prevent chronic diseases.

MedOp Inc. is a leading dietary supplement manufacturer, medical supply distributor and pharmaceutical supplier. In addition to these activities, the company also provides nutraceutical contract manufacturing services at its headquarters in Oldsmar, Florida.
